Reasons for Allowance:

The independent claims recite transmitting data between a mobile node, home agent, authentication server, packet node and a proxy server and limitations for the following:

"sending, from the authentication server to the proxy server, a methodology for determining a home address for the mobile node; using, at the proxy server, the methodology to determine the home address for the mobile node; sending the home address for the mobile node from the proxy server to the first PDSN"

The prior art of record teaches transmitting data between a mobile node and home agent but not with the limitations above. New search updates revealed no other prior art which teaches the limitations in the context of the claims. Therefore, Claims 1-2,5-10,22-23 and 29-35 are indicated allowable.
